

Tennessen Warning

If you participate in the Sweepstakes, you will be asked to provide certain information for the purpose of providing you and like applicants with Sweepstakes awards.

Participation in the Sweepstakes is strictly voluntary, and you are not required by law to furnish any of the information requested on this form. This Sweepstakes is put on by a Transportation Management Organization (TMO) in the State of Minnesota, working in conjunction with local and regional government entities and agencies.

The following information requested is classified as private data under the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act: (a) your residential address and telephone number; (b) your beginning and ending work hours; (c) your current mode of commuting to and from work; and (d) the type of rideshare service information you have requested. All other information you provide is considered public data and is accessible by any person for any reason.

You should know that any of the information you provide, whether classified as private or public, will be provided to certain other entities and individuals in order to supply you with the requested services. These entities and individuals include other agencies or governmental units, employers that are participating in the matching of information of rideshare applicants, and other matched TMO customers. In order to provide you with TMO service(s), match lists containing your name, address, employer, telephone number(s) of your choice, working hours and rideshare preference may be sent to any of the above entities or individuals.

The only consequences of not furnishing all of the information are: (1) The Sweepstakes will be denied data to be used in statistical evaluation, and (2) The TMO's ability to supply you with the requested services may be restricted.

The information provided by you will be used solely and exclusively for providing you and like applicants with Sweepstakes information and TMO services.
